Providers should apply to be a COVID-19 vaccination provider with their state if they intend to provide the COVID-19 vaccine to their patients. They should enroll as vaccinators at the Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) level, not as an individual practice or provider, for efficiency. Enroll all practice types at the TIN level including primary care and any specialty practice that intends to provide the vaccine to patients. If you have already enrolled as an individual practice or provider, no action is needed. This guidance is intended for those who have not already enrolled.

Please complete this brief survey by 5 p.m. ET on Thurs., May 27 to let us know the current state of vaccination provider registration for your Health Ministry so that System Office may provide additional guidance as needed.
