

Dear Colleague,

We look forward to welcoming you to System Office!

Thank you to all who joined one of the informational benefit sessions earlier today. As referenced in the sessions, a helpful My Benefits web page has been created. This site includes various documents and resources to assist you in this transfer, including Colleague FAQs, the presentation that was used in the benefit sessions, and a recording to one of the sessions for those who were unable to join. We encourage you to visit this site often in the event additional resources are added and/or documents are updated with new information.
